

Avi Mittal: Leading with Purpose from Clean Energy to Cutting-Edge Tech

Golden Ace Ventures LLP and Vivid Green Energy Pvt Ltd are charting India's blueprint for sustainable, future-ready growth.

In India's fast-moving business landscape, where technology, sustainability, and scale converge, one leader is steadily shaping the blueprint for tomorrow. Avi Mittal, the CEO & Founder of Golden Ace Ventures LLP and Vivid Green Energy Pvt Ltd, is not simply responding to change — he's engineering it with purpose.

FROM VISION TO EXECUTION

Mittal's approach is rooted in clarity: innovation must create impact, and growth must be sustainable. At Golden Ace Ventures, he focuses on transformative sectors such as clean energy, smart infrastructure, and digital transformation. At Vivid Green Energy, he is driving forward renewable energy solutions that are designed to meet India's ambitious clean energy goals.

"The global conversation has moved beyond growth at any cost," Mittal explains. "We're at a stage where clean, connected, and conscious innovation isn't optional — it's the only way forward. With Golden Ace and Vivid Green, we're not just part of this movement, we're shaping how it unfolds on the ground."

CLEAN ENERGY MEETS SMART TECH

The portfolio under Mittal's leadership reflects a calculated strategy: every venture addresses tomorrow's needs today. Golden Ace invests in smart infrastructure and digital-first industries, while Vivid Green delivers renewable solutions — from solar energy projects to advanced energy storage systems.

What sets him apart is his refusal to view sustainability as an afterthought. "Sustainability isn't a checkbox for us," says Mittal. "It's built into the DNA of every model we create. When you embed it at the core, environmental responsibility transforms into a competitive edge rather than a compliance burden."

A BLUEPRINT FOR SCALE AND IMPACT

Beyond technology and energy, Mittal is deeply committed to enabling India's entrepreneurial ecosystem. Through Golden Ace Ventures, he provides start-ups not just with capital, but with strategic insights, global market access, and the operational discipline to scale responsibly.

"India doesn't lack ideas — it lacks execution at scale," Mittal notes. "Our role is to build the scaffolding — financial, technological, and strategic — so bold ideas can become enduring companies."

This dual commitment, balancing innovation with discipline, has made Golden Ace and Vivid Green trusted partners in building the next wave of Indian enterprises.

LEADING WITH PURPOSE

Mittal's leadership is defined by purpose-driven execution. Where many chase disruption for its own sake, he is deliberate, ensuring every project contributes to both commercial success and societal good. This philosophy has positioned him as a bridge — connecting the needs of industry with the imperatives of sustainability.

As India advances toward its vision of becoming a global economic powerhouse, leaders like Avi Mittal symbolize a new kind of growth mindset: ambitious, responsible, and deeply future-focused.

"India is at the edge of a historic shift," Mittal reflects. "Our responsibility is to ensure that this growth uplifts people, protects the planet, and positions the country as a leader in the digital and clean energy age."

THE ROAD AHEAD

For Avi Mittal, the journey is just beginning. With Golden Ace Ventures paving the way for digital and infrastructure innovation, and Vivid Green Energy championing India's renewable transformation, his companies stand at the confluence of vision and execution.

Together, they offer a blueprint for the kind of growth, India — and the world — urgently needs: sustainable, scalable, and purposeful.
