

40% Bharti Airtel's revenue market share, an all-time high

65% Increase in PAT of Indus Towers

Fully Charged

In FY25, the Bharti Enterprises witnessed a 265% year-on-year surge in profit after tax

The FY25 showing was driven by subscriber growth, higher ARPU (average revenue per user), and rollout of 5G services

Its Africa business continued to post healthy results, further boosting consolidated profits

Bharti Hexacom, too, delivered an impressive performance with a near 200% jump in PAT

Beyond connectivity, Airtel is betting on AI, cybersecurity, IoT, and Cloud

Ringling In Profits

With each arm firing in sync, the Bharti Enterprises saw a massive 224% increase in profit after tax in FY25. Beyond the numbers, for the group, it was also about shaping the future of connectivity

BY ASTHA ORIEL

 FROM ITS MODEST beginnings in Ludhiana as a bicycle parts maker to commanding revenues of over ₹1.5 lakh crore, Bharti Enterprises has redefined scale and ambition among Indian businesses.

Bharti Airtel, its crown jewel, today ranks among the world's top telecom operators with more than 500 million subscribers across 17 countries. Aided by Airtel, in FY25, the group saw a 223% year-on-year (YoY) surge in profit after tax (PAT) to ₹48,907 crore, as per data from ACE Equity. This has catapulted the Sunil Bharti Mittal-led enterprise to second rank among groups with the fastest growth in PAT in the BT500 list.

The firm's revenue market share touched a record high of nearly 40% in FY25, surging by 1.78 percentage points YoY. The winning formula was an improved portfolio mix, continued premiumisation and tariff repair across mobile plans.

"Our clear and simple strategy of portfolio premiumisation and razor-sharp execution is driving strong performance across our businesses," Gopal Vittal, Managing Director of Bharti Airtel, said in an analyst call after accounting results for the first quarter of FY26.

Bharti Group has three major businesses—Bharti Airtel, Indus Towers and Bharti Hexacom. While Bharti Airtel's PAT surged 338% YoY to ₹37,481 crore, Bharti Hexacom and Indus Towers