

BUILT IN INDIA, COURTESY CHINA

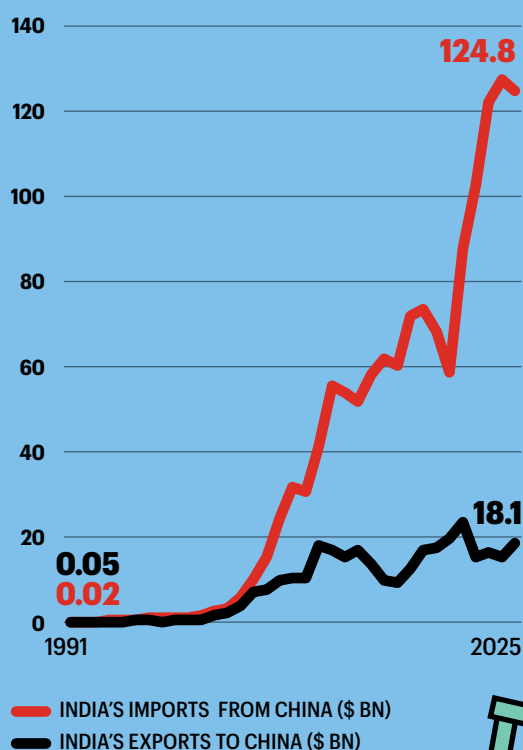

Every iPhone assembled in Chennai has a Chinese battery, a Chinese chip. Look at the laptop on your desk or the antibiotic in your medicine cabinet, the odds are that they all passed through China at some point. India's trade with China has exploded from near-zero in the 90s to $125 billion today but it's been a one-sided relationship. We almost forgot the part where we sell back. Here's a look:

By JYOTINDRA DUBEY & PRINCE TYAGI

Graphics By RAJ VERMA

THE WIDENING GAP

INDIA'S IMPORTS FROM CHINA HAVE BALLOONED FROM $20M IN 1991 TO NEARLY $125 BILLION IN 2025, WHILE EXPORTS ARE JUST $18 BILLION

SOURCE GTRI

