

QUICK IPO

ZEPTO HAS FILED its UDRHP, and as it gears up for a roughly $1-billion IPO, its financials reflect both the promise and pressures of India's quick-commerce boom. The company more than doubled its revenue to ₹22,624 crore in FY26, but losses widened to ₹5,905 crore amid aggressive expansion, rising customer acquisition costs and heavy spending on dark stores and logistics. The filing also disclosed an ED inquiry into foreign investments and tax filings. Investors will be watching whether Zepto can translate rapid growth into profitability.

INDIC SALES

SOFTWARE COMPANY SALESFORCE plans to add seven more Indian languages to its enterprise voice platform and expand local data hosting infrastructure in India as companies move AI and automation projects into production. Arun Kumar Parameswaran, Managing Director, South Asia, Salesforce, said languages, including Tamil, Marathi and Telugu are in beta testing and will be rolled out in the coming weeks. Together with Hindi and English, they are expected to cover 95-97% of customer language requirements. Salesforce is also bringing MuleSoft on Hyperforce to India, enabling enterprises to store and process data locally, particularly for regulated sectors such as financial services and healthcare.

SECOND THOUGHTS

THE GOVERNMENT HAS DECIDED to roll back the royalty rate on crude oil produced from onland nomination blocks and areas awarded prior to the New Exploration Licensing Policy (NELP) to 16.66% from 10%. The restoration of old rates comes within a month of the revision to address inconsistencies across different licensing regimes and provide greater regulatory clarity for the upstream oil and gas sector. A second thought came following internal discussions within the oil and gas ministry.
