

RINGING IN PROFITS

• Income rises four times since FY20, PAT up three times

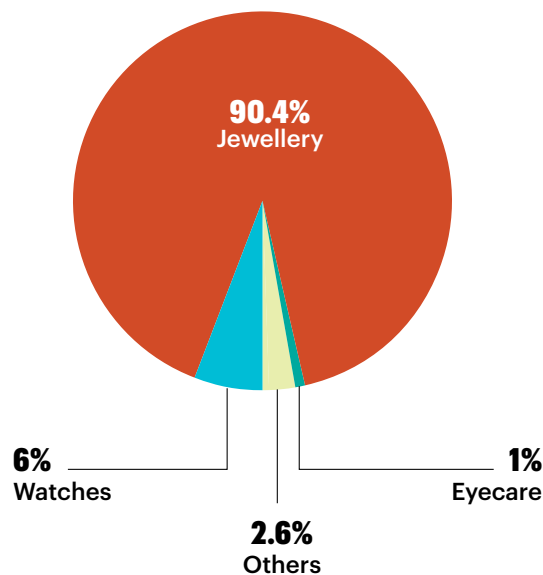

FIGURES IN ₹CRORE; CONSOLIDATED

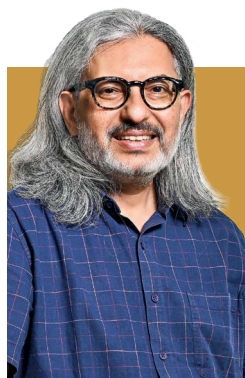

SOURCE ACE EQUITY, COMPANY STATEMENTS

THE REVENUE PIE

• Jewellery accounts for the biggest revenue chunk (FY26)

SOURCE COMPANY STATEMENTS

KURUVILLA MARKOSE
CEO, WATCHES
DIVISION, TITAN

“The ₹25,000-plus watch market has grown substantially in the last five years. That is a dramatic shift that has taken place”

ing not just from pricing but also volume and ticket size. “Store productivity is also strong, indicating the model is working well at scale.”

CREATING ROBUSTNESS

Titan was among the earliest lifestyle companies to give importance to retail experience. The result was its first company-owned showroom way back in 1990 in Mumbai.

The reimagined “store experience” became the bulwark and helped scale up each of the businesses. The foray into jewellery was inspired by companies in markets like Europe that were tapping opportunity in agencies.

In sarees, the business case is obvious. With a large part of the segment unorganised, it is right up Titan’s alley. “Yes, it is driven by what we can do in retail, but that is not a filter. At the same time, if a retail opportu-