» Speaking at Business Today Mindrush 2025 in Mumbai, Mariwala stressed the need for success in the fast-emerging D2C space, the importance of talent, and the changing landscape

» He said securing the best talent for the business is as crucial as gaining market share and pushing growth

INNOVATION IN HEALTHCARE

» India is set to become the first country to dissociate healthcare from wealth, and this transformation will happen within the next 5 to 10 years, said Dr. Shetty, adding India's healthcare model would serve as a blueprint for the world

» To illustrate India's growing dominance in affordable healthcare, Shetty compared cataract surgery numbers across three major economies—India, the United States, and China. "The US performs 3.5 million cataract surgeries annually. Given its population, China should be doing at least five times that number, but it does only 3.2 million. The reason? A lack of private entrepreneurship," he explained
