

Knight FinTech: Pioneering the Future of Financial Technology

Kushal Rastogi
Founder and CEO
Knight Fintech

Every success story is built on vision, resilience, and a relentless pursuit of excellence. Knight FinTech is not just reshaping financial technology but also redefining the future of banking through innovation and digital transformation.

At the helm of this transformation is Kushal Rastogi, Founder and CEO of Knight FinTech. A graduate of IIT Roorkee, Rastogi began his career in finance, working with a proprietary fund before moving on to a quantitative hedge fund in Vienna. His exposure to global financial markets highlighted inefficiencies in traditional banking, inspiring him to bridge critical gaps in financial services. With a vision to revolutionize banking operations, he founded Knight FinTech in 2019, focusing on building scalable banking infrastructure. Over the years, the company has become a leader in Co-lending, Digital Lending, and Treasury Management, enabling banks and NBFCs to operate with greater efficiency and compliance. Holding a 70% market share in Co-lending Infrastructure, Knight FinTech has played a key role in reshaping digital lending. Since its inception, Knight FinTech has focused on solving fundamental banking challenges. Its co-lending middleware helps banks and NBFCs collaborate efficiently while ensuring regulatory compliance. Today, it facilitates ₹3,000+ crore in monthly disbursements through 120+ Bank-NBFC partnerships, making it a trusted partner in the financial sector.

The company's strong product-market fit has fuelled product-led growth, leading to a 2.5x expansion over the past year. Managing $4B+ in AUM digitally, Knight FinTech helps financial institutions streamline lending and treasury operations. With a client portfolio of 85+ financial institutions, including 11+ large banks and 15+ listed NBFCs, the company provides access to $50B in deployable capital, strengthening its position in the digital banking ecosystem.

One of its notable innovations is Knight Aurix, a WhatsApp-based digital lending platform that simplifies loan applications and automates credit decisioning. By offering a seamless, digital-first approach, Knight Aurix enhances accessibility and accelerates financial transactions.

With a goal to empower over 500 financial institutions worldwide, the company continues to expand its product suite. From enhancing digital lending platforms to strengthening compliance frameworks, Knight FinTech remains committed to financial inclusion and improving access to credit in emerging markets. Its API-first approach ensures seamless integration, making banking operations more scalable and adaptable.

The company's ability to balance innovation with regulatory compliance has made it a trusted partner for banks and NBFCs. Its risk assessment models and fraud detection systems provide financial institutions with secure, data-driven insights, enabling them to operate with greater transparency and efficiency. By continuously refining its offerings based on customer needs, Knight FinTech has established itself as a leader in financial technology and banking infrastructure.

The financial sector is undergoing rapid transformation, and Knight FinTech believes technology must play a greater role in shaping the future of financial services. One of the biggest challenges facing the industry is the slow adoption of digitization in credit assessments and risk management. By bridging the gap between traditional banking and digital solutions, Knight FinTech is helping institutions transition smoothly into the next era of financial services.

Another critical area is financial inclusion in underserved markets. By providing scalable lending solutions, the company enables financial institutions to extend credit to underbanked communities, ensuring broader access to formal financial services.

Compliance remains a key focus for financial institutions. As regulations evolve, banks and NBFCs must leverage technology to ensure compliance while maintaining operational efficiency. Knight FinTech's solutions help financial institutions not only meet regulatory standards but also enhance transparency and security.

Recognized for his contributions, Rastogi was awarded Young Leader Under 40 (Gold) by Business World. Under his leadership, Knight FinTech received the Lending Platform of the Year (Silver) and Most Innovative Business Model at the Global Economic Summit 2024. The company's commitment to an innovation-driven and employee-centric culture was further validated with the Great Place to Work Certification, reflecting its strong workplace ethos.

Reflecting on his journey, Kushal Rastogi shares his guiding philosophy:

"Embracing the journey, learning from every challenge, and remaining committed to our vision have been the driving forces behind Knight FinTech's success."

His leadership approach emphasizes strategic growth, resilience, and customer-centricity, ensuring that every solution developed at Knight FinTech addresses real business needs. Under his guidance, the company continues to evolve in a dynamic financial landscape, setting new benchmarks for sustainable growth and digital transformation.

With a strong foundation, a future-ready approach, and an unwavering commitment to financial empowerment, Knight FinTech is poised to shape the future of financial technology on a global scale. As the company expands and refines its product offerings, it remains dedicated to its mission of transforming financial institutions into agile, technology-powered entities. With a bold vision and a strong foundation, Knight FinTech is ready for the future.
