

Kunal Bhalla: Contributing to India's Sustainable Urban Future

Buildings must serve as living narratives. They should reflect the aspirations of those who inhabit them while honouring the environment they occupy.

Kunal Bhalla
Founder and CEO
CRC Group

In an era where urban landscapes are often defined by fleeting trends, Kunal Bhalla, Founder and CEO of CRC Group, has emerged as a thought-leader rejuvenating landscapes with his unique vision centred around work-life balance. With a career spanning two decades, Kunal has reengineered the DNA of Indian real estate, intertwining experiential design, meticulous space optimisation, and climate-conscious development. His leadership ethos—rooted in transparency, foresight, and human-centric values—positions CRC Group at the forefront of India's environmentally conscious real estate development.

Visionary Foundations: From Blueprint to Legacy

Founded in 2006, CRC Group's ascent mirrors Kunal's unwavering dedication to reimagining urban ecosystems. Under his stewardship, the firm has transcended conventional development paradigms, delivering landmark projects such as Maesta, Joyous and Sublimis—residential projects that harmonise luxury with resident-first living approach.

His company's landmark commercial venture, appropriately named CRC The Flagship, serves as a stellar example of a workplace environment that prioritises work-life balance. From state-of-the-art office spaces to recreational areas, wellness programs, and flexible work arrangements, this 2.4 million sq ft mixed-use project integrates workspaces, retail shops, and wellness hubs. The entire complex is designed to promote employee well-being and productivity. "Buildings must serve as living narratives," Kunal says. "They should reflect the aspirations of those who inhabit them while honouring the environment they occupy."

Sustainability: At the Heart of Every Endeavour

For Kunal, sustainability is an irrevocable covenant. CRC's projects are sanctuaries of eco-conscious design and deploy cutting-edge technologies including sustainable construction materials and principles, and AI-driven management even after they have been handed over to the respective buyers. "Reducing carbon footprints isn't optional—it's our moral imperative," he emphasises.

Harnessing Global Expertise

A standout leader with a keen eye for talent, Kunal has fortified CRC Group with a team of dynamic individuals, shouldering various aspects of the business. Kunal's ability to synthesise global design with regional sensibilities has been pivotal to CRC's success. As a person who pushes the frontiers, he infuses trust and confidence in his team to try and fail and then to try again to succeed.

Further, his keen eye to turn his every venture into a landmark project has led him to forge strategic alliances with firms like Benoy (master planners of Abu Dhabi Ferrari World & Planning & Interior Design of Jewel Changi Airport), RSP, Gensler (workplace innovators), and Hafeez Contractor (India's leading architecture with global footprints) have created spaces that resonate universally while remaining culturally anchored.

Collaborations with Killa Designs (Architect for the Museum of the Future, Dubai) and SWA Group (Landscape Architect for the Burj Khalifa) on further underscore CRC's commitment to holistic, future-ready design. CRC's developments reject the compartmentalisation of modern life. Kunal believes that spaces must nurture both ambition and well-being. This philosophy is amplified through partnerships with New York based Rockwell Group, whose experiential interiors transform mundane everyday life into one filled with aestheticism and joy.

The Road Ahead: Scaling Impact

Under Kunal's leadership, the CRC Group has ambitious expansion plans. These include projects in Greater Noida West, collaborations with industry partners for luxury residential complexes, and the development of mixed-use land parcels in strategic locations across Noida. These expansion efforts align with CRC's commitment to delivering innovative and sustainable real estate solutions that meet the market's evolving needs.

Leadership with a Human Core

Away from boardrooms, Kunal's leadership is fuelled by an intuitive understanding of human aspirations—a trait honed through years of engaging directly with homebuyers and communities. His advocacy for ethical practices has earned CRC Group a 97% customer retention rate, a rarity in India's often-opaque realty sector. As India's urban tapestry evolves, Kunal Bhalla stands at its forefront—a leader who builds not just for today, but for future generations as well.
