

HIGH RISE Despite a decline in overall home sales, the top end of the market—driven by HNIs and NRIs—continues to flourish

Home sales dipped in major Indian markets in 2024 after healthy growth in the previous few years

Macroeconomic uncertainties and steep rise in prices hit sales and, consequently, new launches

Sales of luxury homes, however, continued to grow in double digits as HNIs & NRIs kept investing

High-income households are buying more than ever with their share in new home loans rising rapidly
