AIR POWER

A tyre with low pressure can be a killjoy on a road trip, especially if the service stations on your route are few and far between. But you can banish this killjoy with this portable tyre inflator that gives you the freedom of dealing with such challenges on demand, saving valuable time and avoiding potential delays. An indispensable companion for road trips, this portable tyre inflator is compact and lightweight and portable, making it a cinch to store it in the boot of your car. It comes with a 4,000 mAh battery and can quickly inflate tyres of most vehicles (bicycles, bikes and cars), sporting equipment (footballs or basketballs), or even an air mattress. What adds to its camping chops is the bright LED light built in, that is very handy in the dark.

Breathe Easy

A road trip in India isn't usually devoid of dust. And if you're on a long drive, the car's cabin could turn into a hub of dust, allergens, and pollutants. A car air purifier fixes this problem, making cabin air healthier. This one from Philips comes with SelectFilter Plus filtration technology that helps remove PM 2.5 particles. The HESA layer, part of this technology, decontaminates the car of harmful gaseous chemicals by absorption and oxidation. The air purifier has a clean air delivery rate (CADR) of 16 m3/hour for PM2.5, which is enough to filter 50% of a standard sedan or SUV in less than 10 minutes. The air purifier comes with a three-colour air quality indicator that automatically adjusts the filtration speed based on the in-car air quality.
