

LOCALISING GLOBAL BEST PRACTICES

Aayush Ailawadi (left), Editor, Technology & Presenter, BTTV, with Chetan Bhagat, Author, Speaker, and Influencer

- » Appreciating Gujarat's spirit of entrepreneurship, Bhagat said GIFT City can become India's answer to financial hubs like Hong Kong
- » One way GIFT City can rise up, according to Bhagat, is through localisation
- » He said that one reason people choose cities like Dubai and Singapore is because they can maintain their non-resident status and this feature has to be brought to GIFT City

UNLOCKING GIFT CITY'S POTENTIAL

Sourav Majumdar (left), Editor, Business Today; with Kalyanaraman Rajaraman, Chairperson, International Financial Services Centres Authority

PUTTING MONEY INTO MINING

Roopwant Singh, MD, Gujarat Mineral Development Corporation

- » Singh said investors need to change their perspective towards mining and oil stocks and push the growth trajectory of these companies
- » Speaking on the electrification drive, Singh said the company would work towards investing in critical minerals
- » Speaking on coal's relevance in the current times, Singh added that Gujarat gets its stable power from coal-fired and lignite-fired plants. Most of these will be reaching their end of life in the next seven to eight years

A BOOSTER FOR INDIAN FINANCE

Ashish Chauhan, MD & CEO, National Stock Exchange

- » Chauhan said that while the Indian IFSC offers a great opportunity for global companies in terms of cost and compliances, the speed of execution in terms of setting up companies could do with some improvement
- » The MD & CEO of NSE highlighted the fact that trading in GIFT Nifty, which was earlier known as SGX Nifty, has shown a strong uptrend since the launch of the product in July 2023
- » The aim of GIFT City is to introduce trading in as many products as possible, and that would help Indian companies
- » The direct-listing facility would also help Indian start-ups get better valuation, the NSE honcho added