

“Core of insurance lies in long-term security”

Vibha Padalkar, MD & CEO of HDFC Life, on the insurance provider's performance, surrender charges, and future innovations

BY TEENA JAIN KAUSHAL | PHOTO BY MILIND SHELTE

26 |

WITH A WEALTH of experience and a visionary approach, Vibha Padalkar, MD & CEO of HDFC Life, has been instrumental in shaping the insurer's success amid an evolving market landscape. In an interaction with Business Today, she talks about strategic insights, innovative initiatives, and reflects on HDFC Life's performance in FY24. Edited excerpts:

▶▶▶

How has HDFC Life performed in FY24?

Despite changes in the Budget, we delivered a healthy growth of 20% in Q4 after adjusting for the one-off business of ₹1,000 crore in March 2023. We achieved our aspiration of double-digit growth for a full year by clocking 11% growth in FY24 on a normalised basis. We achieved individual Annual Premium Equivalent (APE) growth of 1% on an unadjusted basis. Growth momentum continued across ticket sizes of up to ₹5 lakh with robust growth of 19% for the full year. Tier II and III markets recorded growth of 13%. The number of policies for the year has increased by 11%.

The two subsidiaries are doing well. The pension subsidiary, which is wholly-owned, has crossed

