

A portrait of Vikrant Shrotriya, a man with dark hair and glasses, wearing a dark grey double-breasted suit over a white shirt. He is smiling and holding a white measuring tape around his waist. The background is dark and out of focus.

Vikrant Shrotriya,
Managing
Director, Novo
Nordisk India

BATTLE OF THE BULGE

1 The patent for semaglutide (Ozempic, Wegovy) is expiring in 2026, opening the door to generic competition, which may erode Novo's pricing power

2 Eli Lilly's Mounjaro, with a more advanced dual-action mechanism, is gaining ground globally, while other players such as Pfizer, Amgen and some Indian firms are ramping up their GLP-1 and weight-loss drug pipelines