

SANOFI

KEY PRODUCTS: Adlyxin (lixisenatide), Soliqua (insulin glargine/lixisenatide)

POSITIONING: Strong focus on diabetes management, but limited presence in the weight-loss segment.

MARKET OUTLOOK: While Sanofi holds a solid share in diabetes, it trails Novo and Lilly in the high-growth obesity market, particularly emerging markets like India.

SOURCES: Annual reports, industry research

INDIAN GENERIC COMPANIES

KEY PLAYERS: Cipla, Zydus, Lupin, Sun Pharma, Dr Reddy's

POSITIONING: Preparing to launch generic versions of GLP-1 drugs after semaglutide's patent expires in 2026.

MARKET OUTLOOK: Well-positioned to capture market share in cost-sensitive geographies like India where affordability and access are critical.

SOURCES: IMS Health, market research reports

3

BIOCON

PRODUCTS: Liraglutide, Semaglutide and Tirzepatide

INDICATIONS:

Obesity and type 2 diabetes

DEVELOPMENT STAGE:

Liraglutide launched in UK, approved in EU, filed in US; Semaglutide and Tirzepatide under different stages of development

DETAILS: Developing in-house GLP generic formulations and proprietary devices

4

DR. REDDY'S LABORATORIES

INITIATIVES: Developing novel GLP-1-based therapies

INDICATIONS: Obesity and type 2 diabetes

DEVELOPMENT STAGE:

Preclinical/early clinical trials

DETAILS: Investing in the development of innovative GLP-1 receptor agonists to address the growing demand for obesity treatments.

5

ZYDUS LIFESCIENCES

INITIATIVES: Developing novel GLP-1-based therapies

INDICATIONS: Obesity and type 2 diabetes

DEVELOPMENT STAGE:

Preclinical/early clinical trials

DETAILS: Zydus is investing in the development of innovative GLP-1 receptor agonists to provide effective treatment for obesity and related conditions collaboration,” says Shrotriya. It is developing next-generation therapies, enhancing access and awareness and working with healthcare professionals, policymakers and researchers to improve early diagnosis and long-term obesity care.

The company is also focusing on building a broader ecosystem. “We have successfully collaborated with state governments, leading medical institutions and healthcare stakeholders to advance diabetes care, and we are now applying this expertise to combat obesity,” he says. “Our focus remains on building a robust, science-driven ecosystem that ensures sustained impact and aligns with India’s broader public health priorities.”

TAKING STOCK

Analysts have started flagging concerns around how

KEY MARKET DATA

1

Indian Diabetes Drug Market: Valued at over ₹4,000 crore, with steady growth driven by increasing disease burden

2

Indian Weight-Loss Drug Market: Expected to grow from ₹174 crore in 2022 to ₹474 crore by 2024. Novo currently dominates, but generic entrants could disrupt this post-2026