

Amway Backs India's Growth: Empowering Lives through Health, Wellbeing, and Economic Opportunity

Rajneesh Chopra
Managing Director, Amway India

As India strides towards powering the 5 trillion dream, one truth stands tall—real progress begins with people. A nation's true potential lies in the health, vitality, and empowerment of its citizens. At Amway India, this belief is not just a corporate strategy—it's a deeply rooted purpose.

We strive to make India a country where people embrace healthy habits that contribute to their overall wellbeing. As we look towards the next five years, we aim to help transform 5 million lives, prioritising healthspan remains the foundation of our vision. Towards this, Amway has been partnering with the Government bodies like FSSAI, research institutes like IIT Mumbai, and communities to build a holistic wellness ecosystem. This move will support a broader culture of health and wellbeing, contributing to a healthier society.

As one of India's leading FMCG direct selling companies supporting health and well-being, the company is nurturing a powerful wave of micro-entrepreneurship across the country. The company fosters economic growth by promoting self-employment and the potential to earn alternative income that strengthens local communities and supports small business growth. This reflects the broader transformative power of India's direct selling sector. With over 88 lakh individuals in direct selling nationwide which includes 44% women, the industry drives inclusive growth by developing skills, empowering women, and fostering small businesses.

Amway Business Owners /distributors are more than entrepreneurs; they are the Ambassadors of wellness, they aim to guide their customers on a transformational journey towards wellbeing, backed by high quality products, bringing the 'health first' philosophy to life in communities across India.

With an unwavering commitment to our timeless values, Amway is advancing with a purpose-driven approach guided by three strategic priorities: Elevating Our Values and Culture, Accelerating the Product Innovation Pipeline, and Strengthening Distributor Partnerships through education and training. – all aimed at helping distributors to grow their businesses and thrive.

Further, guided by this philosophy, Amway India envisions a nation where individuals are equipped to lead a healthier, more self-reliant life. This closely aligns with the Prime Minister's Swasth Bharat mission, reflecting a shared commitment to preventive healthcare and holistic well-being. For Amway, the vision goes beyond products – it's about transforming India into a thriving health and wellbeing ecosystem where people share common lifestyle habits, drive overall wellbeing.

This vision is powered by Nutrilite, the 90-year-old legacy brand and global leader that has pioneered the plant-based approach to supplementation. Every product echoes the brand's dedication to quality, backed by Amway's unique seed-to-supplement traceability that guarantees purity, safety, and efficacy.

Underpinning this commitment is a strong innovation foundation. With an investment of over $4 million, Amway established four cutting-edge R&D Labs in Gurgaon, Bangalore, Chennai, and Dindigul, pioneering advanced nutritional solutions tailored to Indian consumers.

Amway's contribution doesn't stop at products and innovation. Aligned with the Make in India, for India initiative, Amway is proud to have completed 10 years of manufacturing excellence with its LEED Gold certified Manufacturing facility in Tamil Nadu. Over the past decade, the company has advanced product development and sustainability through cutting-edge technologies, enhanced traceability with digital systems, and established a state-of-the-art R&D lab.

Yet, the real power of Amway's mission lies in its people-first approach, empowering individuals and communities through its social initiatives. Amway's Power of 5 program combats childhood malnutrition by educating mothers and caregivers, while Project Nari Shakti empowers women with life skills and entrepreneurial opportunities to drive change in their communities.

Amway India is proud to play a pivotal role in the nation's transformation, not just through quality products, but by nurturing a future rooted in health and wellbeing, and economic opportunity. As India advances on its $5 trillion journey, Amway remains steadfast in powering that progress by supporting to building of a healthier and empowered nation!
