THE GREAT INDIAN MUTUAL FUND ILLUSION

In the last 18 months, assets under management of mutual funds have doubled. Yet, less than 15 per cent of the money belongs to retail investors. Why doesn't the Indian retail investor love mutual funds?

ON SALE NOW

The small investor isn't investing enough in mutual funds and the fund houses, in turn, aren't wooing them aggressively enough. That's not good for either of them. How does that affect the stock markets and the small investors? Business Today, India's No. 1 business magazine, takes you inside the modern-day stock market conundrum.
