

A. LANGE & SÖHNE ODYSSEUS

► Lange's Odysseus sent shockwaves when it arrived in 2019: a German brand renowned for gold cases and three-quarter plates building a stainless-steel sports watch. The Odysseus, however, has matured into one of the most compelling GADA propositions today. Its day-date complication is cleanly integrated, the bracelet is superbly engineered, and the watch carries the gravitas of Glashütte finishing without the fragility. It is perhaps the most intellectual choice in this group.

F. P. JOURNE OCTA SPORT

► Journe is not usually a name you associate with "go anywhere, do anything." Yet the Octa Sport, crafted in aluminium alloy or titanium, is the maison's vision of an everyday companion. At under 70 grams, it is featherlight. The 120-hour automatic calibre, complete with Journe's signature finishing, ensures reliability across days of wear. It is a sports watch for collectors who demand haute horlogerie without compromise.
