

Dawn in Glass

RHEA MEHTA'S CUSTOMISABLE Jardin light installations transform ordinary spaces into quiet sanctuaries. Inspired by nature's organic forms, each piece features 60 hand-blown glass tubes shaped into botanical silhouettes—delicate ferns, curved stems, and seed pods. Priced at ₹3 lakh, these glass elements are arranged in bottom-lit sleek steel vases, creating delicately illuminated floral arrangements that evoke an arboreal calm. Light travels through each glass element differently, creating subtle variations in brightness and shadow that mimic the way sunlight filters through foliage. When illuminated, Jardin pieces create intimate strokes of light that feel both painterly and poetic.
