

AUDIO-TECHNICA ATH-AWKG HEADPHONES

► Looking for an immersive audio experience? Look no further. The Audio-Technica ATH-AWKG headphones offer an exquisite listening experience for audiophiles who value both sound and craftsmanship. These headphones are meticulously handcrafted in Tokyo, featuring earcups made from kurogaki wood—rare Japanese persimmon wood known for its distinctive, black ink-like marbling. This wood is cherished in Japanese culture for its unique acoustic qualities, which contribute to the headphones' remarkable sound clarity and natural resonance. The ATH-AWKG is equipped with large 53 mm dynamic drivers, Permendur magnetic circuitry, and a Double Air Damping System—all designed to deliver expansive sound with deep bass and crystal-clear detail. Luxurious touches like sheepskin earpads and a magnesium alloy frame ensure comfort, while two detachable cables and a kurogaki wood storage box add a final flourish to this high-end audio masterpiece.
