ARUNDHATI CHAKRABORTY

HAS spent more than 11 years with global technology services company Accenture. She has contributed significantly to growing its $10-billion operations business by tapping into vast opportunities created by artificial intelligence (AI), Generative AI, and automation. In recognition of those efforts, she was elevated to the position of Group Chief Executive of the Operations business at Accenture in August 2024. She used to be Senior MD and Global Delivery Lead of Business Process Services.

Responsible for overseeing a global team of over 220,000 professionals now, she excels in managing complex transformations for clients. Her ability to shape and implement talent strategies across diverse and geographically dispersed teams has helped create immense value for clients around the world. For these reasons, debuts on the BT MPW list.

With an MBA in Marketing from the University of Calcutta and an advanced leadership degree from Harvard Business School, Chakraborty’s academic foundation complements her impressive professional journey.

Reflecting on her career, Chakraborty says: “If I could go back [in time] and give myself some advice, it would be to... take things a bit slow to ultimately move faster, and to focus on
