

PHOTO BY MANDAR DEODHAR

RADHIKA GUPTA*41, MD & CEO, Edelweiss Asset Management Company

and have a presence in 44 locations. What's surprised us is the rapid growth we're seeing in smaller locations," says the Wharton School graduate and Shark Tank Season 3 judge.

With an eye on expansion and a commitment to staying nimble, Edelweiss Mutual Fund, under her leadership, continues to build on its impressive trajectory. BT

— BY TEENA JAIN KAUSHAL

ment, the entrepreneur has managed to grow HCLTech's revenues, which crossed the ₹1 lakh crore-mark in FY24, rising 8.3% year-on-year. Despite operating in a steep inflationary cycle and amid a falling rupee, the tech giant's net profit stood at ₹15,710 crore, a growth of 5.7% YoY. "Our deal pipeline was at an all-time high of $9.7 billion and we won the largest-ever services deal in our history from Verizon Business. It underscores the strength and resilience of our differentiated portfolio even in a challenging macroeconomic and geopolitical landscape," she says, adding HCLTech plans to upskill 50,000 people on AI and Gen AI skills in FY25. BT

— BY ARNAB DUTTA

WHY SHE MATTERS

She is the only woman leader to spearhead a major tech corporation, and it has emerged stronger despite widespread challenges globally

TECH FOR GOOD HEALTH

A FOUNDING MEMBER

of Apollo Hospitals, Sangita Reddy has played a pivotal role in driving the organisation's growth through tech-driven solutions. "I guided the organisation's growth through technology-driven innovation," she says.

Under her leadership, Apollo has harnessed the potential of AI to enhance the delivery of healthcare services.

However, when the healthcare industry is changing day by day, managing the rapid transition has not been without its challenges. "One of the considerable challenges we have faced at Apollo Hospitals has been the difficulty of providing international-standard healthcare to every individual, particularly given the regulatory constraints that limit our ability to collaborate with international medical professionals," she says, emphasising the importance of maintaining high standards.

In the past year, Apollo has expanded its opera-

ADVICE TO YOUNGER SELF

Never be afraid to embrace your curiosity and seek answers

MANTRA FOR CHALLENGES

You face difficult times based on the strengths you have built during calmer periods tions to over 10,000 beds across 73 hospitals. "We have set benchmarks in healthcare projects by integrating IoT, AI, data analytics, drone technology, and blockchain," Reddy explains.

In FY24, Apollo Hospitals reported a 15% year-on-year revenue growth to ₹19,059 crore. "We are striving towards a future where healthcare is proactive, personalised, and accessible to all," Reddy says. BT

— BY NEETU CHANDRA SHARMA

SANGITA REDDY61, Joint Managing Director, Apollo Hospitals Enterprise

PHOTO BY BANDEEP SINGH