como turned sour, and a legal battle ensued before the group bought out the foreign partner's stake. Later, the loss-making business was sold to Bharti Airtel.

And yet, for all the challenges, there are also the big moments, like the listing of Tata Consultancy Services in August 2004. The original big boy of the IT industry saw widespread investor interest and since then has contributed disproportionately to the group's finances. THE SUCCESSOR

With Noel Tata taking charge of Tata Trusts, his son Neville may eventually lead Tata Sons

► Noel Tata, the 67-year-old half-brother of Ratan Tata, has been chosen to lead Tata Trusts. He was elected Chairman of the trusts that control a majority stake in Tata Sons, the holding company of the group.

N. Chandrasekaran will continue to lead as the Chairman of Tata Sons, a role he has held since 2017. After an amendment to the Articles of Association of Tata Sons in 2022, no single person can head both Tata Sons and Tata Trusts.

Noel Tata is currently the Chairman of Tata International Ltd, and has been part of the Tata group for over four decades. He serves on the boards of various group companies, including as Chairman of Trent, Voltas, and Tata Investment Corporation, and as Vice Chairman of Tata Steel and Titan Company Ltd.

Noel Tata is married to the late Cyrus Mistry's sister, Aloo. He is expected to help smoothen the frayed relations between the two business families after the spat between Mistry and Ratan Tata. The Shapoorji Pallonji Group—headed by Shapoorji Mistry, Cyrus Mistry's brother—has an 18.3% stake in Tata Sons.

Noel Tata's son, Neville Tata, is also involved in some of the Tata Trusts as a trustee. With Noel Tata assuming the top position at Tata Trusts, it may eventually pave the way for Neville Tata to become a candidate to take charge of Tata Sons in the future. Only time will tell...
