GOOD DEBUT

Overall, the 16 newly-listed firms that have broken into the BT500 list raised ₹31,756 crore from their IPOs, compared to ₹89,002 crore raised through 86 IPOs overall in the BT500 study period.

Among the new entrants in the BT500 list, Sunil Mittal-backed Bharti Hexacom leads the pack with a market cap of ₹55,113 crore—it is ranked 150th overall. From its listing on April 12, 2024, to the end of October, Bharti Hexacom, which has an extensive mobile telephony network across rural and urban areas in Rajasthan and the Northeast region, delivered 84% returns to its investors. Its revenues have grown at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 14% over the past five years and profit after tax at 22%.

The company reported a profit of ₹253 crore in Q2FY25, as against a loss of ₹184 crore in the corresponding quarter the previous year. Its revenue grew 21% year-on-year (YoY) in Q2 to ₹2,098 crore.

The company aims to expand its network further in these regions, says Samir Bahl, CEO, Investment Banking at Anand Rathi Advisors.

Bahl is also positive on JSW Infrastructure, which ranks second among the newly-listed firms in the BT500 list and 156th overall. He says it has a strong capex road map, combined with a healthy order book. Similarly, he is positive on the Indian Renewable Energy Development Agency (Ireda), the third among the newly-listed firms and ranked 171 overall, since it has strong government backing and a promising project pipeline.

“The high growth potential of the Indian economy is generating opportunities across sectors, enabling firms to expand rapidly”

Analysts say JSW Infrastructure has delivered 54% returns over the past year, driven by a robust five-year CAGR of 28% in terms of revenue and 35% for PAT. In Q2FY25, its revenue rose 18% YoY to ₹1,001 crore, while PAT jumped 46% to ₹372 crore.

The company has outlined ambitious expansion plans, including two brownfield projects with an estimated capex of ₹3,259 crore and two greenfield projects requiring around ₹7,119 crore.

Ireda, which has seen revenue and PAT grow at a five-year CAGR of 20% and 34%, respectively, has delivered returns of about 300% from its listing on November 29, 2023. In Q2FY25, the company's revenue grew 38% year-on-year, to ₹1,629 crore, while its PAT grew 36% to ₹388 crore.

Jain of Reliance Securities says, “We have seen 12 companies gain more than 100% from their IPO price and 20 companies with an average gain of 60%. We believe there are a few companies that enjoy some moat in their business; valuations will continue to move higher with expansions leading to growth in revenues, a strong management pedigree, and enjoying the scarcity premium.”

Among the other newly-listed firms, names like Juniper Hotels are expected to do well, given the rise in foreign tourist arrivals and 30% higher wedding days,
