VOCO JIM CORBETT

Spread across 13.5 acres, India's first voco property from IHG Hotels is based in Jim Corbett's Dhikuli area with the Kosi river as its magnificent backdrop. Situated on the foothills of the Mailani range in the Kumaon region, the resort is home to numerous flora and fauna. The resort features 70 rooms with most offering views of the manicured lawns, but it is the ones that offer views of the river that make voco an ideal weekend getaway from Delhi. Besides a safari in Jim Corbett National Park, voco offers other activities such as river rafting on the Kosi, a hilltop dinner (where you get to indulge in food cooked by the locals), and a karaoke night. Relax at the spa, chill in the pool, or burn calories at the fitness centre—voco offers it all.
