AAMAGHATI WILDLIFE RESORT, RANTHAMBORE NATIONAL PARK

The latest addition to the numerous hotels and resorts near Ranthambore National Park, Aamaghati Wildlife Resort is all about being one with nature without giving up on creature comforts. So, while a special technique involving mud, cow dung, and lime plaster, along with thatch roofs and bamboo details, is utilised throughout the resort, guests can also relax in the spa after a jungle safari or chill in one of the two swimming pools on the property. Spread across 5.3 acres of verdant landscape, the resort has 52 rooms across four categories, named after the famous tigers of Ranthambore. Wake up to the sound of chirping birds and star gaze in the evening with trained staff, enjoy a meal or a cocktail at one of the four dining venues and, of course, go on a tiger shoot (cameras only) at one of the country's most renowned wildlife sanctuaries.
