

ROBUST INFLOWS FROM domestic investors supported the Indian equity market during this year's study period (October 2023 to September 2024) of the BT500 list of India's most valuable companies.

Overall, the average market capitalisation (m-cap) of the BT500 firms rose 39% by ₹102 lakh crore to ₹363 lakh crore over the previous study period. Meanwhile, the broader equity markets outpaced large-caps with wider margins. The benchmark BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty 50 index witnessed a 28% and 31% rise, whereas the BSE MidCap and SmallCap indices surged 53% and 52%, respectively, during the same period. The Nifty Midcap 100 and Nifty Smallcap 250 gained 48% and 51%, respectively.

However, while some, like Cochin Shipyard, saw a huge jump in market capitalisation, others, like some Adani Group firms witnessed a significant drop in their valuation.

The latest rankings show that select firms from the shipping, renewable energy, and railways industries witnessed remarkable upswings in their one-year average market capitalisation. On the other hand, firms from the gas transmission, power, fast-moving consumer goods, chemicals, diamond and jewellery industries witnessed a decline in their market valuation.

ping sector, emerged as the top gainer in this year's BT500 list. The one-year average m-cap of the company surged by a whopping 333% to ₹34,339 crore on September 30, 2024.

Incorporated in 1972 as a public sector company, CSL is one of India's leading shipbuilding and ship-repair yards and is helmed by CMD Madhu S. Nair. In FY24, the shipbuilding segment contributed around 74% to its total turnover of ₹3,830 crore while the ship-repair segment contributed the rest.

Commenting on CSL's performance, Amar Ambani, Executive Director of brokerage YES Securities, says the firm gained traction mainly due to the government's 'Make in India' initiative. "CSL got a shot in the arm from the government's defence indigenisation drive, amply reflected in the high-value orders of anti-submarine warfare corvettes, new-generation missiles, and aircraft carriers," he says. "It also bagged
