

wini Vaishnav has already announced plans to add 2,500 new general passenger coaches, 10,000 more coaches and 50 high-speed Amrit Bharat trains. The government intends to upgrade 40,000 standard rail coaches to meet the Vande Bharat benchmark.

“The railway sector is undoubtedly poised for handsome growth going forward. Increased budgetary allocation reflects the government’s intent. Having said that, most rail stocks are rich in valuations and should be reconsidered when there’s better margin of safety,” Ambani says.

The country’s oldest stock exchange, BSE Ltd, emerged as the fourth-biggest gainer on the list, with its one-year average market cap climbing 284% to ₹33,274 crore as of September 2024 on the back of strategic moves and improvement in financial performance.

40 | Apurva Sheth, Head of Market Perspectives and Research at SAMCO Securities, says, “Robust expansion in the derivatives market through Sensex Options and smaller-lot contracts have significantly boosted daily trading volumes and transaction revenue. This strategy has led to higher revenue and PAT (profit after tax), enhancing investor appeal and driving stock growth.”

BSE reported 70% year-on-year growth in consolidated gross sales at ₹1,390 crore for the year ended March 2024. On the other hand, the net profit of the exchange soared 253% YoY to ₹778 crore during the same period.

With a jump of nearly 268% in average market capitalisation, Housing & Urban Development Corporation secured the fifth spot. According to JM Financial, the domestic residential market performed well in FY24, reaching the highest-ever absorption rate; pan-India absorption rose by around 20.1% YoY, while supply increased by about 11.5% YoY. NBCC (India), another state-owned real estate major, also witnessed 216% rise in market valuation.

Power sector finance company REC (up 228%) and Kalyan Jewellers (up 217%) also secured a place among the Top 10 gainers.

Sharing his views on Kalyan Jewellers, Sheth of SAMCO Securities says that the stock has surged over the past year primarily due to strong revenue growth and operational expansion. The company posted a 32% growth YoY in consolidated revenue in FY24, attributed to rising gold prices and the launch of new showrooms, which boosted customer footfall significantly.

“Their franchise model improved profitability by reducing operational costs, while strategic expansions in India and the Middle East also supported growth. Additionally, a favourable reduction in import duties on gold further enhanced sales,” Sheth says.

THOSE THAT DIPPED

In contrast, three of the Top 5 companies from billionaire Gautam Adani-led Adani Group were among the major losers on the list—Adani Total Gas, Adani Energy Solutions and Adani Wilmar. With a decline of nearly 49% in average m-cap, Adani Total Gas retreated the most during the study period. The average one-year m-cap of the company declined to ₹96,741 crore from around ₹1.9 lakh crore during the previous study period.

Sheth of SAMCO Securities explains that the primary reason for Adani Total Gas’s lacklustre performance stems from stagnant financials, with revenue growth
